ABSTRACT

The website- Treasure is an online shopping website that enables people to buy or sell waste products and vintage stuffs in online. It is more like an online scrap shop.

INTRODUCTION

When it comes to online shopping it is always dresses, jewels, households etc.... Everytime it concentrates on new products but not old and waste products. Even they can be sold. As far as known only two or three Websites are known for selling old products but not waste products. So this website is to show how waste products can be useful.

There might be people who wants only mordern things and there are people who like to have the old products collection especially on coins,utensils,car,camera etc... So this website acts as a platform to link those people. We thought at times when people throw rubbishes on the trash can , we would think some trashes don't actually look like a trash. Considering this , “ one's trash can be another's treasure, and so the website is named as treasure.

It is always being difficult to find spare parts for vintage products. But still there are people who have vintage products but want to sell it out and go for modern things. But there are people who needs have the oldage stuffs. So this website could be indispensable.

RELATED SURVEY

Websites that are similar to this website is OLX and Indiamart. OLX is a website that concentrates on second hand products and vintage products but not the waste products. The similarity between these websites are there nothing to do with the creator of the website it directly deals with the buyer and seller. The onwer of the website won't buy or sell things.

Indiamart is the website that sells waste products but only inside India and not other countries. There is no other website that could sell or buy waste products and vintage stuffs.

Most of people prefers this online shopping as a comfortable one instead of the other methods. People finds this online scrap as an entirely new things and picks up to be curious about it, on its working process and methodology and how far it would be comfortable for them to buy and sell things.

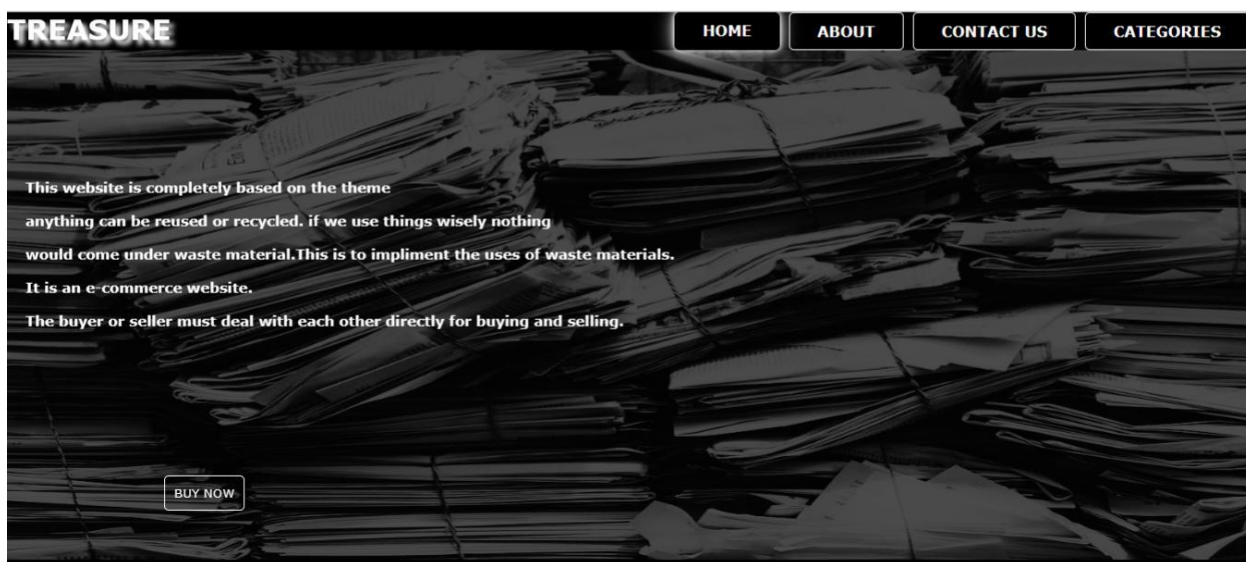

METHOD

The people who wants to buy things can get into the website by signing up. Then if they want to buy something from the website they need to give their details to the seller ,and they can pay the seller either online or offline

If they want to sell the things they must upload the image of it, then must mention it's type and how much kgs it is available. They can sell the waste paper, e-waste, iron scrap etc... in only bulk not less than 1kg.

The owner of the website don't buy or sell things, it is directly to dell with the seller of the particular products. The owner of the website does not buy or sell anything. Any scam or fraudulent works cannot be reported or claimed to the owner of the website
